Development of the CORB Fund Brand Manual and Visibility Materials

The Cubango-Okavango River Basin Fund(CORB-Fund) with support from the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), acting as an implementing agency of the Global Environment Facility (GEF), is supporting the Governments of Angola, Botswana and Namibia through the Permanent Okavango River Basin Commission (OKACOM) in implementing a project by the CORB Fund titled “Calalyse investments into nature – positive outcomes” in the Cubango-Okavango River Basin. Seeks the services of qualified and reputable consultant/s to develop a brand identity for the CORB Fund to effectively package visibility materials that will be generated by the institution.

The branding will enhance awareness of the CORB Fund among critical stakeholders, including policymakers, the transboundary water resources management community, international cooperation partners, and the private sector. Further to this this initiative will also enable the Fund to be identifiable and align with co-branding principles outlined and required by principal funders/partners.

Detailed Terms of Reference can be downloaded from the OKACOM website (www.okacom.org/procurement) and submission of proposals online should be done by
